V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement*1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims 1-23	YES
	Claims	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims 1-23	YES
	Claims	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims 1-23	YES
	Claims	NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)*NOVELTY (N) AND INVENTIVE STEP (IS) claims 1-23

The invention of the claims is a light collector having a dye molecule concentration C, the dye molecules being dispersed in a light transmissive medium, the concentration C being selected to reduce attenuation that light will suffer due to re-absorption or scattering in the main emission wavelength range of the dye molecules so that the combined emission and absorption efficiency of the light collector is increased.

All the documents cited in the International Search Report were category A only. No individual citation or obvious combination of citations disclose or fairly suggest such a light collector. Therefore, the invention as claimed in the present claims is considered to be novel and inventive.

VIII. Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the question whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:

Claim 1 appears to be claiming by result only. The present claim merely states that a dye molecule concentration C is selected so that the combined emission and absorption efficiency of the light collector is increased. However, there is no direction at all on how the concentration C (such as a value or a range) is actually selected or calculated, therefore, how the end result can materially be achieved is not clear.
